

Limit of Liability Statement

When original artwork (or other original materials) are submitted for scanning and other reproduction procedures, Colourgenics and its subsidiaries undertake to exercise our best possible care for these originals. Should damage or loss occur, however caused, Colourgenics is not responsible or liable for such damage or loss. It is the customer's sole responsibility to insure the originals in question before submission, or the customer does so at his/her own risk.

Submitting any other original materials, such as disks, negatives/transparencies, photographs or media for scanning, processing and printing constitutes an agreement by you that any damage or loss will only entitle you to a replacement with an equivalent material or product.

Acknowledgement

The undersigned has read, understood and agreed with the above statement by Colourgenics Inc. regarding its limit of liability.

Customer name: _____

Address (for new customers): _____

Telephone: (for new customers): _____

Authorized signature: _____

Dated: _____